Our History:

Cyclo USA originally started developing cleaning systems for the aircraft & automotive industries, who commenced operations in 1953. They are manufacturing their unique twin-head orbital action polisher designed specifically for the aircraft and aerospace industries. This machine was the 1st machine to leave a swirl-free finish without any danger of burning, marring, or gouging. Alongside the polisher, a series of specialty chemicals and polishes were developed to enhance and protect aircraft surfaces. In a short time, the polisher (together with the various polishes) established itself as the standard polishing system throughout the world. It is now used by virtually every car brand, airline, and aircraft manufacturer.

In the mid-1970s the machine was discovered by the automotive industry. It leads to instant success in resolving the paint problems of the auto industry. This is now the ONLY approved machine for all Ford, General Motors, Toyota, Lexus, Hyundai, and Nissan dealer outlets in the USA. During this time, the company developed initially for the aircraft industry. Subsequently, the auto industry benefited from a spray extraction cleaning system for upholstery and carpets. The CYCLO Predator Extraction Cleaner is still the only polishing system that can deep clean yet still allow carpets and upholstery to be dry in just a few minutes.
